UPCOMING LITTERS or AVAILABLE PUPPIES

Although this is a list of reputable hobby breeders, every breeder has a different way of raising puppies, interviewing, and selecting applicants. Contracts can range from none-to-restrictive. Your breeder should be like 'family', your support system throughout your puppy's life. Choose someone you like and feel comfortable with, even if that means waiting for their next litter.

Before a dog is bred, it should have its hips x-rayed and cleared of hip dysplasia by OFA and/or PennHip. Other tests available are elbows, eyes, thyroid, and heart. You can use the links below to view pedigrees and to validate most health testing. BEWARE! AKC Marketplace does NOT guarantee quality breeders! In fact, several commercial and backyard breeders advertise there.
